COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The report we received last week that T. V.'s were to be exempt from taxation in 1969 was not true. We will have to tax them this year but not in 1970.

J. Jay Willard and the manager attended the Annual Assessor's and Tax Collector's meeting in Rumford last Wednesday. The most discussion evolved around the taxation of snow traveling vehicles. It is very difficult to clearly explain why the July 31st date the registrations expire have no bearing on the taxation of these machines. A person must declare to the assessor they own a machine April 1st, but they have until the date of commitment to pay an excise tax, otherwise they will be taxed as personal property. The date of commitment is the day the assessor completes their work, sign the Commitment Book and give it to the tax collector.

Robert Lewis, the airport manager has requested me to ask that automobiles and horses be kept off the landing strip. The ground is soft and to be their delegate to Bethel State would make more maintenance.

SMOKING PETITION DENIED AT MONDAY MEETING

—Special Meeting Wednesday

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of S. A. D. 41, Monday evening at Telstar Regional High School, a smoking petition which had been presented by students at the school and signed by a substantial number of students and faculty members was voted down unanimously.

Superintendent Ralph E. Ryder recommended a no vote, a motion was made by Dale Thurston, Bethel, and seconded by William Cousins, also of Bethel, to allow no smoking room or area at the school. Mr. Ryder noted that the board had received a petition from parents and others in Andover as well as letters from a district PTA and other interested citizens, all opposed to a smoking area.

Lloyd Weaver, of Bethel, spoke for allowing a smoker, noting that a restriction on smoking provides an incentive for youths to smoke. He continued, that students will smoke in the woods where they cannot be policed, causing a fire hazard.

Letters of resignation were read from Mrs. Louie Coffin, fifth grade teacher at Woodstock Elementary; Mrs. Colista Morgan, third grade teacher at Woodstock Elementary; Mrs. Ethel Ward, second grade teacher at the Bethel Bible School; Bethel: Thomas Marino and Gary Christian, both of the English department at Telstar. The resignations were accepted by the board.

A report was given by transportation chairman, Ted Chisholme, who said his committee had authorized the purchase of three vehicles. To date, they had taken action to purchase a 73-passenger bus, also a 12-passenger van, which will also be used to transport bus lunches from the central kitchen. Purchase of a third vehicle had been postponed.

The committee recommended to the superintendent a change in the master bus schedule. This would involve a change in policy with the Bethel Bible and Crescent Park Schools starting at 8:45 or 9 a. m. causing a better bus schedule for all students with a better utilization. A study will be made of guide lines for late buses including the so-called ride home after services.

A list of proposals for changes in existing periods, unstructured time English curriculum, rotating times in student hand book and teacher-pupil ratio was presented and supported by new board members, Robert Day Woodstock, Dale Thurston, Bethel, and Donald Starker, of Bethel.

The board went into executive session at which time staff nominations by the superintendent were discussed. Following the respecting of the meeting, with three exceptions, approved by the board was granted.

The nominations that failed to receive the approval of the directors were: C. Richard Vaughan, Telstar principal, six in favor, six opposed.

As the result of votes at the special meeting, approval of the nominations was granted as follows: C. Richard Vaughan 14 in favor, three opposed; Mrs. Katherine Davis, eight in favor, five opposed, four abstentions; Miss Florence Hall, 11 in favor, nine opposed, six abstentions.

(A complete list of nominations approved will be published next week.)

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

A perfect day doesn't often endure but it does bring a promise of spring. March 30th was such a day so I prepared for an early hike. Leaving the house at seven a. m. I walked up the old spring road on a firm crust and into the dense hemlocks where I so often go in summer. They held their green branches up to the sun as they huddled in their groves. All was silent and deserted except for a pompous crow. He seemed to criticize me as he flapped along up there in the wider world.

On up the hill I climbed, pausing for a few minutes to look through the trees to the horizon beyond. After forty-five minutes of wandering I returned to join my niece and her mother at eight for a hike to the top of Noyes Mountain. Twice each year I take this trip to what is called Buck's Camp, so honey nestled among the trees. It has stood for a half century or more. Now it's a house with a broken heart.

The past few years I have said, "We'll find it flattened by the snows."

After this winter hope was dim. We were prepared for the worst but it was standing! On its porch roof was 67 inches of snow, measured, two corners sagging and one wall bulging, but there. The fireplace of stone, elegant and unusual will soon stand alone, lost among the pines. We took pictures and said "Look and remember for with the coming rains it cannot stay."

The mark of mortality is found on all that man builds.

There are days which occur in this climate when the world reaches perfection, this was one of them. Facing the wide expanse of mountains and the horizon the scenery was most sublime.

My sister made the remark, "I have been in the White Mountains and in the Rockies but have seen nothing as beautiful as this."

We gazed enchanted. These hills were aglow in the free blazing sunshine diversified with peak and dome and hollow fully brought out in light and shade.

The wind played with the clouds twisting them into ringlets or whirling them about only to drift together like wreaths of foam in a river.

Above was the spotless blue as we stood solitary in the sunshine and gazed at the world so lovely.

Having left the wooded section we met the strong wind sweeping through the fields. Facing those mountains I sensed the presence of great forces, forces beyond easy understanding for they were so stupendous.

The slight weariness of the journey was soon rested away, and our glorious morning in the sky was nothing but enjoyment.

My friend "Gramp" the robin has returned. I wonder if he expects a worm from my lawn—with four feet of snow?

It is nice to hear the pre-ace of the Red Winged Black Bird as he sits by pond's edge just hoping the ice will vanish. I do too.

WOODSTOCK
Each week in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, in South Woodstock, a story from some mission field is brought to the members of the Sabbath school. In this way mission activities are kept up to date and interest alive. Adventists have been active in the Hinesdale, Ill., area with the "Five-Day Plan" to stop smoking, and in spite of the fact that more than 30 such clinics have been held, the last one drew an average attendance of 850 people.

In Singapore a new plane has been dedicated to mission service in Sarawak. The plane, a Cessna 180, is to be operated by the Director of the Sarawak mission and will use seven private airstrips in the jungle, bringing medical ministry to formerly inaccessible places in a short time.

In Brazil and Chile Adventist work continues to grow. Schools and hospitals are being enlarged, providing modern facilities and equipment to these needy areas.

Adventist Churches nation-wide are glad to share in these mission activities by giving offerings each week for these activities, and others just as worthy.

20 Seconds with the Nazarene

The greatest victories in life cost something, Christ said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross, and follow me." Matt. 16:24... the reason many have never enjoyed the blessing of victory is because they have never paid for it.

—Charles R. Millhuff

Letters to the Editor

To the Taxpayers of the Telstar Area:

We would like to inform you of some of the problems concerning Telstar. You may think you know all about them, but you don't know both sides.

When this school was set up we were given the privilege of trying out a new modular system. This system has been going on now for about seven months. Can it work? Yes, we the students, believe that it can, but only if given a fair trial. We don't think that seven months is chance enough.

Just because we don't have grammar like you had doesn't mean that we're not doing anything constructive! We realize that there are things that could be and should be changed, but does that mean that the whole system should be condemned? Maybe part of the reason that you don't like this system is because it's different from what you're used to. But times are changing and education has to change, too. Believe it or not, even the conservatives, one-horse towns around here are changing!

Less than fifty per cent of the students from the Bethel area now go to college. Maybe with the training that Tester can give them—if you let it—more students will be ready and able to face the challenge. After all, college days aren't filled with seven forty-five minute classes and a study hall if you're lucky.

When the Pilgrims came over from England, people said it would never work. If the Pilgrims had given up as easily as you are, we wouldn't be here now.

There is a shortage of good teachers in Maine. If the good ones that we have now continue resigning, we're going to end up with a bunch of robots, or teachers who do exactly what the board of directors tell them to do, just so they won't lose their jobs. If that happens, the board of directors might as well come to Telstar to teach. That seems to be what they're trying to do anyhow. Are they qualified to run people's lives?

We feel that the modular system is working well and is certainly a welcomed change from the seven period a day rut. We're not in the sixth or seventh grade, so must we be blessed with study halls? Nothing gets accomplished there because the atmosphere of force is always there.

It isn't fair to take away the modular system before you really know how it's going to work out in the future. This year has been kind of unorganized, but we believe that it will get better. Do you really care about what is going on or do you just want to take the easy way out and let the school go back to the way "little red schoolhouses" were run? Talk to the students. We do matter, you know, because we're right in the middle of all this.

We can all help, but only if we stand up for what we need and believe in.

LOCKE MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills, Corres. — I have been reading the comments on zoning with interest these past weeks and it seems to me that no matter which side one is on he is pretty lucky. People come all the time to our small communities to get out of those progressive, industrialized, zoned cities. We must be doing something right.

A greatly improved Greenwood Fire Department, under the leadership of Raymond Seames, proved a very valuable asset to the community last Friday morning when, within minutes of the alarm being sounded at the Ekco Housewares Co., firemen were on the scene to extinguish a chimney fire at Miss Bertha Kimball's which might have done a great deal of damage if they had not been so prompt. Although it is hoped there will not be reason to call on them often it is certainly nice to know they are there when needed. It might be interesting to note that water is no longer used to extinguish this type of fire. Instead a bomb made especially for this use is dropped into the chimney which explodes, cutting off the oxygen supply to the fire and extinguishing it. Miss Kimball greatly appreciated all that was done in her behalf.

Who passed away April 10, 1968 Your gentle face and patient smile With sadness we recall You had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart

That loved us well and true, Ah, bitter was the trial to part From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten - we love you Nor will you ever be, As long as life and memory last We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,

As time goes by we miss you more, Your loving smile, your gentle face, No one can fill your vacant place.

The birds have decided it is time for the snow to leave this part of Maine as a big flock of robins and cow birds arrived this week end. Song sparrows and more junco with the gray phoebe also came to our orchard, a most welcomed sight.

Ellis and I took a trip to Merry-meeting Bay hoping to see large flocks of geese. We heard and saw a few, also a lot of ducks and other smaller water birds but they were too far away to identify them correctly.

We went to Topsham, to Richmond, then went down the other side of the bay to Bath. We came to Brunswick and home through Lewiston.

We saw purple grackles, mourning dove, kill deer and sparrow hawk, which we had not seen this year until now. This was a delightful trip and the lovely day made it more perfect.

Craig Morgan returned to Lancaster for the final semester of this year, in college.

Mrs. Leslie Thurlow was in Portland to visit her brother, James Baker, who is in the Maine Medical Center for treatment.

SWEETSER - SPENCER

Miss Carol Ann Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Spencer

Lewiston, became the bride of Richard D. Sweetser of Lewiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Sweetser

Bethel, in an attractive ceremony which took place Saturday, March 29, in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception of St. Patrick's Church.

The Rev. John J. Feeney officiated, using the double ring service, for which the altar was decorated with bouquets of white flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over a Do taffeta, fashioned with a Watteau neckline trimmed with Venice lace, long fitted sleeves ending in bridal points decorated with the same lace. Empire waistline and A-line skirt in a redingote effect. A Dior bow at the back supported the chapel length train. Soft petals in matching fabric supported the bride's tiered veil of English illusion and she carried a cascade of white carnations centered with red roses.

Norman L. Lepage served as best man, and ushering duties were handled by Clifford A. Spencer II, brother of the bride, Douglas Bennett of Bethel, a cousin of the bridegroom; Russell Desjardins and Andrew Costello.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Holy Family Credit Union hall, where Miss Eileen Murphy circulated the guest book. Miss Sue Menard had charge of the gift display at the bride's home.

BETHEL MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN POLAND CORNER ACCIDENT

A Bethel man was reported in a "serious" condition at the CMG Hospital, Sunday night, following a one car accident earlier in the day on Route 26 in Poland near a large building known as Pulsifer's barn.

A hospital spokesman stated that John C. Young, 23, of Broad St., sustained undetermined head and internal injuries. It was reported that he was in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

According to investigating State Trooper Rayne Poussard, Mechanic Falls, Young, the son of Dr. John Young, Bethel, was traveling southerly in his late model Land Rover when he continued straight ahead on a curve and went off the right side of the road. The vehicle climbed a snowbank and flipped over in midair, landing on its wheels approximately 20 feet beyond the Pulsifer barn. Trooper Poussard stated that possibly Young had fallen asleep at the wheel.

It was reported that Young was thrown from the vehicle into the highway. The unconscious man was treated at the scene by Dr. Fred Jordan. The Poland Fire Dept. was called with the rescue unit. The injured man was then transported to the Lewiston hospital by ambulance.

Assisting at the scene were State Police Sgt. Harry Hanson, Bridgton, and Trooper Alwyn Treadwell, New Gloucester. The 4 p. m. mishap occurred near the post office at Poland Corner.
